

The 2017 Australia and New Zealand Society of Evidence Based Policing (ANZSEBP) Conference will be our 3rd Annual Conference. The ANZSEBP is a not-for-profit organisation of police that seeks to develop, disseminate and advocate for police to use scientific research (“the evidence”) to guide best practice in all aspects of policing. This year’s conference brings another packed and world class group of speakers together to address its theme – Police Engagement with Communities; Police Legitimacy; Innovation and Capability through EBP. Please consider registering as soon as possible to secure your place!

Looking forward to seeing you at AIPM on 31 May.
